ASP.NET Web Forms Model ?Page state Session state a) The page state is the state of the client, i.e., the content of various input fields in the web form.The browser submits a web form to the web server and the server returns a full markup page or HTML page in response.All client side user activities are forwarded to the server for stateful processing.????2.Example: shopping cart

Summarized by © lakhasly.com