30 Maui, a 21-ronth old dog rolled back on the sandy beach and basked in the Mediterranean sun. But as they were enjoying the sun, they saw three people panicking at the sea The tourists had ignored the red warning flags and swam into the deep water. Pascal's friend Bruno, who was surfing near the shore, saw the swimmers, too. Both Maui and Pascal He realised were trained life savers and didn't think twice aboutIHe didn't stop to rest and swam back to rescue the last person Pascal followed his trusty pef. Maul swam to the drowning swimmers. The dog and his owner Pascal Brockley were having a grea time on their summer holiday in...With the help of Bruno and Pascal, he pulled the people back to the shore. He slipped under the waves and when Pasca wanted 1 to rescue him, it was too late Maui was dead. They were unable to get back to the shore. they were in danger and set off to helping They didn'tthink about help them. The pair fought the waves to reach the swimmer. They just thought of saving the lives ofg others. Maui was exhausted. The powerful waves were too much for the brave dog. Pascal was very upset. His beautiful heroic pet was dead. He was sad but what he saw made him angry: the_three people were running away. Maui gave his life to save those they strangers were. but they didn't even stop to thank him.