

Hello Now I will talk about our first project, and in our first project we mentioned how the work will be good and the work group will be happy working together as they work through the next steps. Firstly, 1/ Do not criticize, complain, or condemn: This is one of the important points in terms of the team focusing on highlighting the efforts and contributions they made to the project.