

We learn English because it's a far more widespread language than any other and it's one of the easiest to learn since its Grammar is simple and its letters don't intertwine with each other, it's easier to understand with its easily recognizable vowels and words and it's easy to write in it unlike other languages