

The positive economic effects of the entrepreneurial companies first increase the average profits of a person and the change in his business system. Secondly, capacity, innovation, innovation, acquiring knowledge and market needs.