

The full extent of the Data Migration scope based on the Business requirements can only be finalised during the Analysis and Design stage of the project as the Data Migration Strategy will merely outline 'What' will be migrated 'When' and 'How' as part of the data conversion but the detail of the migration will be described in the Data Migration execution Plan.