This study revealed several limitations and challenges of AI for teachers' use such as its limited reliability, technical capacity, and applicability in multiple settings. To achieve this objective, multidisciplinary collaboration between multiple stakeholders (e.g., AI developers, pedagogical experts, teachers, and students) is crucial.