

in indirect finance The financial institutions (asset transformers) stands between the suppliers of funds and the demander (users) of funds as a broker