

Harry Potter was a series of books authored by one of the most eminent writers of our generation, J.K. Rowling. The concept of the Tri-wizard tournament is one of the most brilliant pieces I have come across in the Harry Potter series. These books showcase the wizarding world and its workings. One of the things which excite me the most about this book is the introduction of the other wizard schools. J.K. Rowling has been so successful at weaving a picture of this world, that it feels real. It gave a larger perspective into the wizarding world. In addition, this book also contains some of my favorite characters. The moment I read about Victor Krum's entry, I was star struck. Although the series contains seven books, I have a particular favorite. My favorite book from the series is The Goblet of fire. Even though I had read all the previous parts, none of the books caught my attention as this one did.
