

It tells of Juliet Verahs, a broken, lonely, and tormented girl with her own powers and deadly touch. She was locked up in a psychiatric facility for something outside her control. After a while, a corporation called The Reestablishment decided to turn it into a weapon, to be used to harm and kill the rest of the people left in the shattered world.