

is characteristic of the business firm that engages in social actions in response to a popular social need.