Findings showed that 72.2% of participants were female, and nearly half (47.2%) had 4–6 years of experience.Prior antibiotic exposure and chronic conditions such as diabetes and COPD were identified as significant contributors to antibiotic resistance.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com