

Human intelligence: the ability to analyze and make conclusions, the ability to categorize and visually perceive, the ability to understand and generate spoken and read languages, the ability to analyze emotions, the ability to solve mathematical problems, and the ability to diagnose and discover diseases