

2. An AIS can deliver precise and fast financial information by integrating many modules, including general ledger, accounts payable, accounts receivable, and financial reporting.