

Love for Nature is found in modern poetry, though the age is of science and machine. The modern poets get delight in the sensuous beauty of the Nature. However, modern poets do not spiritualize Nature like Wordsworth.