

After four years, the FIFA World Cup will come to Qatar in 2022 and Qatar will be the first Arab country in the Middle East to host the FIFA World Cup. Qatar is organizing the World Cup to increase the economy of the country through sport to improve large sectors of sports programs such as the development of sports, especially football, as well as improving the infrastructure of the state and sports stadiums such as Khalifa Stadium. Qatar focuses on commercial tourism by providing all necessary services as a tourist destination to travel for leisure. Qatar has spent a lot of money for hosting the FIFA World Cup because it will attract many tourists from around the world and increase the country's economy. Firstly, Qatar has spent a lot of money for hosting the FIFA World Cup because it will attract many tourists from all over the world. Secondly, Qatar has spent a lot of money for hosting the FIFA World Cup because it will increase the country's economy. Therefore, Qatar has ensured frequent visits to Qatar.