

Some common consumer complaints include issues with product quality, poor customer service, billing errors, delivery problems, and misleading advertising.