My mother and my father are the most influential people in my life.I think that Parents are the true guardians, and are the real reasons for us to succeed and feel happy in this world.The value of parents can never be ignored, they play a significant role in our life.I have never seen him sad about that or grumble, even if he is tired he tells us that he is so happy that we are safe and do not need anything.She is the best housekeeper, she can take care of everything and every member of our family.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com