

The result of the survey revealed that majority of the respondents were female. It is not very surprising since nowadays, people can subscribe to data plans from different mobile companies at a low cost. 80% of the students from the institute they enjoy playing video games, therefore, it is probable that playing games is the most economical and easiest way to having fun. With regards to the students' perception on the how can video games be a job to make money, all of the respondents enjoyed playing video games which would be a positive thing. All of the respondents were video game player and majority of them have video game applications on from 1 hour to 4 hours. Also, most of the respondents they say that it helped them to communicate with their family when they far from them.