

Despite some restaurants' wonderful dining experiences, many customers prefer to consume their meals at home, which is why the online food ordering system was invented.