

The findings indicate that there is an opportunity for hydrocarbon between 628 and 661 depths since the gamma-ray is low, the SP curve is deflected to the right, and the resistivity is high.