

Water is the major factor limiting yield production in the hot and dry summer period of semi-arid regions.