

most of all successful people used to have a dream that they chase. To sum up, getting a high paid job, saving money and establish a business are the steps for achieving my goal which is to be wealthy. Those dreams must be had goals to achieve them. To achieve my dream, I have to set many goals to make my dream real. Third, after collecting much money, I am going to establish my own business. With discipline and patience, my business will be big which makes me wealthy as I wanted. That is my dream. Would do you think?
