

I had travelled to a training workshop and after reaching my hotel I suddenly realized...My workplace was very understanding and could wipe the laptop data remotely.I had left my work laptop on the bus.I panicked and started to cry, headed straight back to the station to report it missing.In terms of what I learnt, we all make mistakes.