

For Slide 18 (Block Diagram of Best Solution): "This block diagram illustrates the workflow of our best solution. Users upload plant images through the main interface, which are processed by the CNN model in the backend. The system integrates deep learning algorithms for image processing and classification. Outputs are then displayed, providing users with accurate disease detection results in real-time. This seamless process ensures accessibility and efficiency for end-users."