

?Business communication is considered one of the most important factors that determine the success of companies and institutions in the international arena.