

It is a mobile application where users can access their bank accounts, complete transactions directly from their mobile devices, check balances, view payment history, etc. The main objective of these applications is to provide basic banking services directly on mobile devices.