

- In the first case: The reason for the appearance of the blue color in the filter is due to the ability of the methylene blue particles to pass through the pores of the filter paper, in addition to the force of attraction (bonding) between the methylene blue particles and the water molecules.