

The selection interview serves the purpose of evaluating the candidate's credentials, expertise, background, and suitability for the job role.