

The operating system is a special type of program that loads automatically when you start your computer. All UTFs include the full Unicode character repertoire, or set of characters each character can be 16 bits (2 bytes) or 32 bits (4 bytes).