

5-Religious preaching and guidance is very important to protect society from the problem of domestic violence because the teachings of the Islamic religion stipulate compassion and family cohesion.5-Religious preaching and guidance is very important to protect society from the problem of domestic violence because the teachings of the Islamic religion stipulate compassion and family cohesion.